

LONG-TERM projects with Challenging Learning - the CLP

The Challenging Learning Process is a tailor-made, long-term development process for pre-schools, schools, colleges and adult training providers.

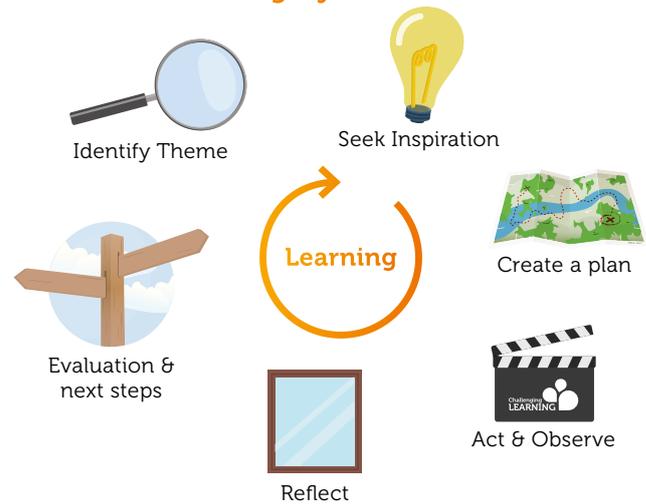

Engaging with Challenging Learning places an emphasis on process ...

The Challenging Learning Process (CLP) is not just a series of workshop events, but continuous cycles of action learning. The process is both ongoing and developmental, building capacity to leave a lasting legacy of stronger learning for stronger lives.

The Challenging Learning Process (CLP) creates sustainable change by focusing on work at a number of levels:

- Leadership
- Coaching
- Teaching staff
- Learners

The Action Learning Cycle

System (e.g municipality)	Instructive (transformational)	Evidence Based Decision-making		Culture and language of collaborative growth	Shared vision for learning for all
Leaders	Where are we going?	Where are we now?	Action Plan for Learning	Mental Model Shifts	Distributed Leadership
Champions (coaches)	Action Learning & Peer Observation		Coaching Skills	Professional Culture Shift	Capacity & PLC
Staff	Strategies and Tools	Action Learning	Guided Induction and Observation	Reflective Practise	Collegiate & Self Growth
Students	Dependent	Aware of Learning	Guided Progress	Classroom Culture Shift	Independant Collaborative
Parents	Information	Events	Learning Reviews	Active participation in the learning process	Aligned Growth Mindsets

The Challenging Learning Process supports a culture of organisational growth, leading to shared ownership, distributed leadership and a culture of collaborative learning and collective efficacy.
